Welcome from the Dean

I would like to welcome you to the School of Advanced Study, whether you are joining us for the first time, or returning for further research. The School is a unique institution in UK Higher Education, serving as the hub for humanities research in Britain and uniting eight research institutes of international repute, seven of them with significant library resources. We believe that we offer an outstanding multidisciplinary environment for advanced learning and research in the humanities and social sciences, and we greatly value the contribution that all our students make to this environment.

We are glad that you have decided to bring your talents to the School and to participate in the vital and exciting enterprise of pursuing and disseminating knowledge. The purpose of this handbook is to give you full information about what is available, what to expect, how to get it, and what to do if problems arise. While your home institute will be responsible for most aspects of your studies, the School and its Registry play an overarching role in ensuring that you progress smoothly through your research, and that from the time of your registration to the awarding of your degree your academic and personal interests are safeguarded and promoted. We hope that you will find this handbook useful and that it will help to guarantee that your period of study at the School is as rewarding an experience as you, and we, would wish.

Professor Jo Fox

Dean and Pro-Vice Chancellor Research and Public Engagement

The School of Advanced Study

The School of Advanced Study is the UK's national centre for the support and promotion of research in the humanities. Located at the heart of the University of London in Bloomsbury, the School provides an unrivalled scholarly community in which to pursue postgraduate study and research. Students learn from leading specialists in their fields, hone their research skills in highly regarded training programmes, expand their knowledge through an extensive calendar of events, and become part of a worldwide network of humanities scholars. Funding opportunities include AHRC-sponsored London Arts and Humanities Partnership studentships, SAS studentships, and a number of subject-specific bursaries and awards.

An Introduction to Book History

Book History is much broader in scope than its title suggests. 'Book' in 'Book History' means any form of text that is made public or distributed in any way. Book History therefore covers the study of texts on clay tablets from Sumeria and Babylonia, shards of pottery with writing on them from Greece, papyrus rolls from Egypt and Rome, manuscript books written on parchment as well as books printed on paper, and texts available electronically. Book History is interested in all sorts of text, so as well as studying the First Folio of Shakespeare, it can involve the study of legal documents from Babylon, tax returns from Roman Egypt, graffiti from Pompeii, recipes from medieval Europe, manuscript commonplace books from the early modern period, advertising posters from Victorian Britain, or twentieth-century news-sheets and fanzines documenting countercultural movements.

Book History is concerned with processes of textual communication. It addresses the ways in which books are put together physically – the technologies of printing, the crafts of bookbinding – and the way they are multiplied, copied, and circulated. Distribution, through wholesalers, booksellers, second-hand and antiquarian book dealers, is of great interest to the Book Historian. The whole history of libraries — national, university, subscription, public, or private — is within the purview of the subject.

Equally important in Book History is what happens to the text when it finally reaches the reader: what does the reader do with it? How is it used? And how does the reading of certain texts affect the writing of the next generation of texts? The history of reading thus constitutes yet another area of study within Book History.

Above all else, Book History is a study of material objects: in almost all the forms it takes, the 'book' is a manufactured object requiring raw materials, a manufacturing process, a distribution system, and a consumer of some kind. Book History cannot be studied in the abstract: students need to be able to handle and explore the materiality of books. They need to understand how a medieval scribe and an illuminator worked; how type was cast, set, made ready, inked, and printed; how paper was made and how books were bound. To know these things in the abstract is not enough. The programme provides opportunities for students to try out these processes for themselves so that their knowledge is firmly grounded in the real world of intractable materials, complicated processes, and the rhythms of physical labour.

There is no better place in the world to study the History of the Book than London, and no better institution within London in which to study than the University of London. In the British Library (BL) London has one of the greatest libraries in the world, and our students will be expected to use it during their studies. Students also have access to libraries throughout the School of Advanced Study and wider University of London federation. This includes Senate House Library, one of the largest university libraries in the country. Situated in the administrative centre of the University, it has huge resources in all disciplines (it holds about 2 million items and takes about 5,500 current periodical titles). It also houses a number of special collections: the Goldsmiths' Library of Economics Literature (60,000 volumes); the United States Library (30,000 volumes); the Harry Price Collection (12,000 volumes); the Porteus Library (9,000 volumes); the Grote Collection (7,500 volumes); the Sterling Library (6,000 volumes); and the Durning Lawrence Library (6,000 volumes). Senate House also houses the Institute of Historical Research whose scholarly facilities are available to History of the Book MA students. These include its considerable library and common room.

Furthermore, apart from the extensive range of smaller general libraries available to our students, there is a remarkable selection of specialist libraries ranging from the Wellcome Institute, with its huge collection on the history of medicine and science, to the Warburg Institute and the National Art Library, with their art historical collections, to libraries and museums that have a specific relevance to Book History, such as the Type Museum and the Science Museum.

Many of the great museums of London also have collections that are of direct use to the Book Historian; these include the British Museum, the Victoria and Albert Museum, and the Imperial War Museum. In the British Museum, for instance, students can see the earliest surviving texts in the form of Babylonian clay tablets and Egyptian papyri. For Book History the archival resources of London are unrivalled: the British Library, the National Archives at Kew, the Guildhall Library and many other institutions offer a rich range of archival material for research. Much of this material is still unexplored territory as far as Book History is concerned, so there are many opportunities for postgraduates to do worthwhile original research during their time with us.

London has always been the main centre for publishing and bookselling in Britain. It is the home of the Society of Authors, the Publishers' Association and the Booksellers' Association, as well as being the centre for literary agents. The programme is therefore able to draw on the expertise of many practitioners actively engaged in the creation, manufacture and marketing of books, newspapers and magazines. London is also a great centre for developing technologies in such areas as the digitization of texts and their distribution. Whatever aspect of the history of text production and consumption appeals to you most, you will almost certainly be able to find what you are looking for in London.

Students can study some of the earliest manuscripts of the Bible (in the British Library), or Anglo-Saxon manuscripts (in the British Library and Lambeth Palace Library). They can work on high medieval manuscripts at the British Library or the National Art Library. Many of our students spend time working on early printed books, collections of which abound in London and in libraries within easy travelling distance of London. If the resources are copious for periods before the nineteenth century, there is almost an embarrassment of riches for those wishing to study nineteenth- or twentieth-century texts with collections ranging from the Theatre and Performance archives at the Victoria and Albert Museum to the Women's Library in the London School of Economics.

Within thirty minutes travelling time of London there is, moreover, the outstanding collection of publishing and printing archives at the University of Reading. Only a little further afield lie two of the country's other great legal deposit libraries: the Bodleian Library in Oxford, and Cambridge University Library. Moreover, the college libraries of Oxford and Cambridge contain remarkable collections of medieval manuscripts and early printed books.

Suggested Texts

You will find the following published works useful throughout your studies:

The Cambridge History of the Book in Britain*, 7 vols. (Cambridge: Cambridge University Press, 1999-2019)

A comprehensive series on Book History from Roman times to the present.

Eliot, Simon and Jonathan Rose (eds.), A Companion to the History of the Book (Oxford: Blackwell, 2007).

A broad, accessible introduction to the subject which consists of a series of chapters covering the history of the book from clay tablets to the internet, together with introductions to various methodologies of the discipline, as well as related subjects such as the history of literacy, and the nature of copyright.

Howsam, Leslie (ed.), The Cambridge Companion to the History of the Book (Cambridge: CUP, 2014)

A wide-ranging collection of concise introductory essays.

Suarez, Michael F. and Henry Woudhuysen (eds), The Oxford Companion to the Book (Oxford: OUP, 2010).

An impressive two-volume work useful for reference.

Suarez, Michael F. and Henry Woudhuysen (eds), The Book: a Global History (Oxford: OUP, 2013).

Consists of a series of narrative chapters drawn from the above reference work.

Style guide for essays and dissertations

Suggested Preliminary Reading

The following texts provide a broad introduction to topics in Book History. Foundational texts are marked with an asterisk:

*Altick, R.D., The English Common Reader (Columbus: Ohio State University Press, 1998)

Barker, Nicolas (ed.), A Potencie of Life: Books in Society. The Clark Lectures 1986–1987 (London: British Library, 1993)

*Eisenstein, Elizabeth L., The Printing Press as an Agent of Change: Communications and Cultural Transformations in Early Modern Europe (Cambridge & New York: Cambridge University Press, 1979)

*Febvre, L. and H.J. Martin, The Coming of the Book: the Impact of Printing 1450–1800 (London: N.L.B., 1976; repr. 1990)

Finkelstein, David and Alistair McCleery, An Introduction to Book History, second edition (London and New York: Routledge, 2013)

Howsam, Leslie, Old Books and New Histories: An Orientation to Studies in Book and Print Culture (Toronto, Buffalo, London: University of Toronto Press, 2006)

*McKenzie, D.F., Bibliography and the Sociology of Texts (1986; repr. Cambridge: Cambridge University Press, 1999)

Norrie, Ian, Mumby's Publishing and Bookselling in the Twentieth Century (London: Bell & Hyman, 1982)

Raven, James, What is the History of the Book? (Cambridge: Polity Press, 2017)

*Steinberg, S.H., Five Hundred Years of Printing, rev. by J. Trevitt (London: British Library, 1996)

Degree Structure

The MA provides students with a broad understanding of the chronological range of book history from the medieval period to the twenty-first century. It introduces students to the range of disciplines that make up the subject, including bibliography, textual criticism, palaeography, codicology, bookbinding, and the histories of authorship, publishing, printing, reading and libraries. The programme provides frequent opportunities to handle archaeological and historical objects relating to the subject.

The MA consists of one compulsory Research Methodologies module, core modules (of which students are required to take at least two), optional modules taught during the year and on the London Rare Books School, and a dissertation of 15,000 words. Each taught module is worth 20 credits and consists of twenty formal contact hours.

The MRes consists of three modules (which must be selected in consultation with the Programme Director), and a dissertation of 30,000 words. MRes students will be expected to pass the three taught modules with an average mark of 60 or above. If that is not achieved, the student will be strongly advised to follow the alternative MA route by taking more taught modules (either through the MA programme or the London Rare Books School) and then submitting a 15,000-word dissertation.

For information on assessment for individual modules, please see the relevant module handbook.

Full-time and Part-time Study

The MA and MRes can be taken full-time (over 12 months) or part-time (usually over 24 months). Part-time MA students normally complete three or four modules in the first year, with the final two or three modules and the dissertation being taken in the second year. However, it is assumed that some preliminary work on the dissertation will be undertaken during the first year. With the permission of the Programme Director, students can take one of their options via the London Rare Books School (see below).

Taught Modules 2022-23

Autumn term:

Research Methodologies and Resources in the History of the Book (Compulsory) (Weds 11am-1pm)

The Book in the Industrial Age (Core) (Weds 2pm-4pm)

The Historical Reader (Thurs 11am-1pm)

Spring term:

The Medieval Book (Core) (Weds 2pm-4pm)

The World of the Book in the Renaissance (Thurs 11am-1pm)

Spring vacation/Summer term:

Book Trade/Library Internship (see below)

London Rare Books School course (see below)

2022/23 Term Dates

Term 1 (all courses)

Start date: 26 September 2022

End date: 9 December 2022

Reading week: 31 October-6 November 2022

Term 2 (all courses)

Start date: 9 January 2023

End date: 24 March 2023

Reading week: 13-19 February 2023

Term 3 (all courses)

Start date: 24 April 2023

End date: 30 June 2023

Christmas 2022/New Year 2023 closure

24 December 2022 - 2 January 2023 inclusive (subject to confirmation)

Easter holiday

6-11 April 2023, inclusive (subject to confirmation)

Bank holidays

1 May 2023 (Early May Bank Holiday)

29 May 2023 (Spring Bank Holiday)

28 August 2023 (Summer Bank Holiday)

Pattern of Teaching and Assessment

Most of the teaching takes place in Senate House. There are occasional off-site visits to venues in and around London. Classes in the Autumn and Spring terms take place on Wednesdays and Thursdays at the times stated in this handbook. In the Summer term, dissertation students give presentations on their research at the Institute's Mini-conference (see below).

All modules consist of ten two-hour teaching sessions. Core and optional modules are assessed by one piece of written coursework of 5,000 words or equivalent. The compulsory Research Methodologies and Resources in the History of the Book module is assessed by one piece of coursework totalling 4,000 words.

The Internship/Placement module is undertaken in the Summer term and Spring or Summer vacations and is assessed by an essay or project of 5,000 words or equivalent.

London Rare Books School courses are taught intensively over one week during late June or early July and assessed by one piece of written coursework of 5,000 words or equivalent (see below).

All students are required to attend a termly tutorial either with the Programme Director or the IES Director of Studies.

Diagnostic Essay

The Diagnostic essay is an opportunity to receive feedback early in the programme on a piece of work that does not count for overall assessment. The aim is to give you experience of writing essays in book history and to receive feedback on the structure, argument and presentation of your work before you undertake summative assessment.

TASK: Write a critical evaluation of one of the essays studied in the first week of the Research Methodologies and Resources module. You should refer where appropriate to other books and essays as part of your critique.

The essay should be c.1500 words in length. Please use the MHRA Style Guide for your references and bibliography. (See p. 6 above.) Footnotes (not endnotes) are included in the word count but the bibliography is excluded.

Please submit your essay in electronic form to the Programme Director:

cynthiajohnston@sas.ac.uk on Friday 14th October 2022. Feedback will be provided by Friday 28th October. An indicative grade will be given which will not count towards the assessment of the programme. Each student's diagnostic essay will be discussed with either the Programme Director or the IES Director of Studies in a 1-2-1 tutorial in Week 5.

Optional Excursions

Thursday 29th September 2:30pm Maggs Bros., Bedford Square. Tour and talk on current exhibition, 'The Whipple Line: A celebration of the Life and Work of Dorothy Whipple'.

This is an exhibition of archival material relating to the novelist Dorothy Whipple, the author of eight best-selling novels between 1927 and 1953. Whipple's reputation waned during the 1950s but has been revived through republication by Persephone Books from 1999.

Thursday 24th November (time TBC) Sotheby's Rare Books Department with Dr Charlotte Miller, Deputy Director and Head of Rare Books, Sotheby's London.

Charlotte will take us through the preparation of books for auction and the sales process. This is a wonderful opportunity to observe the behind the scenes work in one of the world's premier auction houses.

Spring Term Excursions 2023

There will be three Spring Term excursions:

Peter Harrington Rare Books, 100 Fulham Road, London

Archive of British Printing and Publishing, University of Reading

Christie's Auction House, King Street, London

Days and times TBC.

Summer Term MA/MRes Mini-conference

In Term 3, all MA and MRes students who are writing dissertations over the summer period will be required to present a short paper on their progress so far. This presentation is expected to be approximately 10 minutes in length, and it may be accompanied by PowerPoint. Students will be expected to organise the presentation day as a group and guidance will be given on this process in term 2. The Programme Director will facilitate the organisation of this event.

Coursework Submission Deadlines

Unless otherwise instructed, all coursework should be submitted electronically via the Study Online (see below). All coursework must be submitted by 5 p.m. on the due date.

Extensions to the deadlines below will be granted only in exceptional cases and essays submitted late will be subject to penalty. Please refer to the Academic Guidelines section below.

Dissertation

Study Online

All coursework (the Assessed Essays and Dissertation) is to be submitted electronically via the appropriate module page on Study Online; no hard copies are required.

The links for submission can be found on the module pages on Study Online

You will be asked to give the file a name. Please use your Student ID Number followed by the title of the file submission (e.g. 201234567 The Medieval Book).

The School has also produced guidance on using Turnitin via Study Online, which can be found on the main Study Online welcome page. For more information or if you have any questions, please email Studyonline_Support@sas.ac.uk .

What to include on the front page

Please make sure that the front page of your coursework includes the following:

- Programme title
- Student ID Number (please do not include your name)
- Module Title
- Coursework Title (the title of your essay or exhibition)
- Word Count

To avoid incurring penalties, it is important that you submit your coursework by the deadline and that you do not exceed the word limit.

Please read carefully and follow the instructions set out above for the submission of your work and ensure that you include your Student ID Number and not your name on your submission.

Book Trade/Library Internship

The MA/MRes programme in the History of the Book has had a long and fruitful relationship with the rare book trade and with many different libraries in London. Several of our graduates have gone on to careers in these employment sectors. The book trade/library internship module gives students the opportunity of undertaking a placement in a bookshop or bookselling business, or a library or archive, to link their academic study to the world of books outside the university. The module can be taken for credit as one of a student's option modules, or it can be pursued as an extra-curricular activity.

The internship takes place in the spring or summer vacations or the summer term, normally between late April and late June. It involves 150 hours of placement activity plus 50 nominal hours of work undertaken outside the placement environment. These hours are supplemented by induction and guidance sessions and students maintain regular contact with the Programme Director. For students taking the internship for credit, the module will be examined by one 5,000-word essay on a topic to be agreed with the Programme Director, or a project or projects amounting to an equivalent scale.

Full information is provided in the Book Trade/Library Internship module handbook.

London Rare Books School

The London Rare Books School (LRBS) is a series of five-day intensive Masters-level courses on a variety of book-related subjects hosted by the Institute of English Studies each summer. In 2023 the provisional dates for LRBS are Week 1: 19-23 June; Week 2: 26-30 June and Week 3: 3 –7 July. Each course lasts five days with a total of twenty contact hours. Teaching takes place in Senate House and in other venues in and around London.

Students can take an LRBS course as one of their option modules on the MA/MRes programme. Each course is assessed by an essay or project of 5,000-words or equivalent. The list of courses varies from year to year but the following are among those likely to be available in 2023:

The Book in the Ancient World
Medieval Illumination
The History of the Arabic Book
A History of Maps and Mapping
The Medical Book
Provenance in Books
European Bookbinding 1450-1820
The Book in the Renaissance
The Italian Book

Bookshops and Bookselling in Britain 1700 to the present
The Newspaper Press 1750-1914
The Modern Rare Book Trade
Artists' Books
Children's Books
An Introduction to Bibliography
Textual Scholarship and Contemporary Editorial Theory

Further courses are in development. Full information will become available in October/November 2022.

Academic Guidelines

Coursework essays

The standard length of an MA/MRes essay is 5,000 words. The word limit includes footnotes but excludes the bibliography and appendices.

In all pieces of written work students are expected to provide the appropriate reference for any and all external material used. Similarly, students are expected to provide a properly arranged bibliography to be attached to each piece of work. Essays should be written in British spelling and should be thoroughly proof-read.

To ensure consistency and clarity in referencing, all students should use the MHRA scholarly conventions. These are summarised in the MHRA Style Guide (see Style Guide for Essays and Dissertations, Page 6 above). References should be included on the relevant page as footnotes, not as endnotes.

Students are entitled to receive feedback on draft material of up to 50% of the essay (c. 2500 words or equivalent).

Unless otherwise instructed, all coursework for taught modules should be submitted electronically. Student names should NOT appear anywhere on the essay (essays are marked blind). Instead, students should include their Student ID in the title of the file. All coursework must be submitted by 5 p.m. on the due date via Turnitin on Study Online.

Penalties for late submission

Essays submitted after the deadline without a valid extension will be subject to a penalty deduction of 10% of the mark awarded for up to one week late, or 20% of the mark awarded for between one and two weeks late. When work is more than two weeks late, any additional penalty to be applied is at the discretion of the Institute.

The Institute reserves the right not to accept work submitted more than two weeks late; in such cases the mark recorded will be zero.

Extensions and extenuating circumstances

Students experiencing medical problems and/or other exceptional circumstances which affect their ability to perform adequately must notify the module convenor or the Programme Director as soon as possible and in advance of the essay deadline. A valid medical certificate or other written evidence may be required in support of any extension requested.

Extensions are granted only in exceptional circumstances and at the discretion of the Programme Director. If you require an extension you should discuss your circumstances in the first instance with the Programme Director or the module convenor.

Disability and Equality

The School of Advanced Study aims to provide an environment where everyone can access its programmes and activities – conferences, workshops and seminars, library provision and teaching programmes. The School of Advanced Study is proud of the diversity of its community and is committed to ensuring all of our staff and students are treated with dignity and respect. We welcome all students who are academically qualified and motivated to benefit from the programmes we offer through the member Institutes.

There is a range of information available for students concerning the adjustment and support available while studying at the School. The relevant webpages can be found here:

<https://www.sas.ac.uk/current-students/student-services/disability-support>

The School's Disability Policy is available here:

<https://www.sas.ac.uk/sites/default/files/files/Student%20Support/SAS%20Disability%20Policy.pdf>

The Institute of English Studies will make reasonable and appropriate adjustment according to individual support needs. Support for disabled students is provided by Equality Focus. Information is available here:

<https://www.sas.ac.uk/current-students/student-services/disability-support/support-available>

MA/MRes Dissertation Proposal

Before embarking on the Dissertation, students must submit a proposal which is approved by the Programme Director and the IES Director of Studies.

The proposal must be presented in continuous prose. Unlike an essay, however, you will not be required to reach a definite conclusion: the point is to suggest a promising line of research and indicate how you hope it will develop.

The Dissertation proposal should usually be between 1,000–1,500 words. It should contain:

- A working title (this can be modified or changed later in consultation with your supervisor).
- A paragraph or two summarising the subject and the argument(s) or the approach(es) that will be used to explore it.
- A paragraph or two outlining the main materials (both primary and secondary) to be used and indicating what has already been done in your proposed area of study. Much of this could take the form, if you wished, of an annotated bibliography (remember to use a standard set of scholarly conventions — the MHRA — when compiling bibliographies).
- A proposed chapter structure of the dissertation with rough word allocations for each chapter or section (no-one will hold you exactly to this, but it is important that you indicate that you have thought about how you are to use your allocated words).
- A rough timetable to indicate how you will distribute your time between the various parts of the work.

Once your proposal has been approved you will be allocated to a supervisor and can start work.

MA/MRes Dissertation Guidelines

Length: The standard length for the MA dissertation is 15,000 words. The standard length for the MRes dissertation is 30,000 words.

Any dissertation will have an introduction, middle and a conclusion. Obviously an introduction is important: you need to tell the reader what you are intending to do, and why. A conclusion is equally important: it should briefly summarise what you have done, explain its significance and, if appropriate, suggest how the subject might be extended. In between the introduction and the conclusion comes the body of the work where you assemble the evidence, analyse it and put forward your argument or case based on that analysis.

With a 15,000-word dissertation you may wish to allocate about 1,000-1,500 words for the introduction and a similar extent for the conclusion; in that case you would have 12,000-13,000 words for your evidence and the argument based on it. You may want to divide the main body into sections; if you do, beware of creating too many sections. Your subject has to be dealt with adequately within these tight limits.

With a 30,000-word dissertation, you will be expected to have a longer introduction and conclusion. You will also need to have an expanded, more deeply analytical argument.

Format: Dissertations should be submitted electronically via Turnitin on Study Online.

Essay Marking and Assessment

All marking is carried out anonymously; numbers are substituted for names on all work seen by both internal and external examiners. All essays are double marked. The first marker for dissertations will normally be the dissertation supervisor.

The three borderline marks are 49, 59 and 69. All essays that are awarded these marks are considered at the SAS Examination Board and are reviewed by an external examiner. A cross-section of other assessed work will be sent to the external examiner for moderation.

Grade descriptors and assessment criteria can be found at the end of the handbook.

Feedback and Notification of Results

Feedback on each piece of coursework will be provided electronically within 21 days of the submission deadline and will take the form of detailed comments on the completed coversheet. Students also have the opportunity to discuss their work in one-to-one tutorials with the course convenors. A numerical mark will be awarded to each piece of assessment. All marks are provisional and subject to final approval by the Examination Board.

Students will usually receive notification of their dissertation mark following the final Examination Board. This usually takes place in late October.

Degree classification

For both the MA and the MRes, the final qualification from the University of London will register one of the following marks:

Pass with Distinction (70% and above)

Pass with Merit (60% - 69%)

Pass (50% - 59%)

Fail (49% and lower)

For a distinction, a student must achieve an overall average of 70% including a mark of 70% or above on the dissertation; for a merit, a student must achieve an overall average of 60% or above, including a mark of 60% or above on the dissertation; for a pass a student must achieve an overall average of 50% or above, including a mark of 50% or above on the dissertation. A student must pass the dissertation in order to pass the programme overall.

Reassessment

Any student who fails an essay is entitled to submit another essay for reassessment. The re-assessed essay must be on a different topic from the essay that was failed. This second topic must be agreed between the student, the course convenor and the Programme Director. A new timetable for resubmission will be agreed at the same time. The maximum mark for a reassessed essay is 50.

Appeals

A student may only appeal a mark on grounds of administrative error or where there is a concern that the assessment may not have been conducted in accordance with the relevant regulations. Appeals on the grounds of academic judgement will not be considered. Any student wishing to appeal a mark should contact the Programme Director in the first instance.

Academic Writing Support

The School's Doctoral Centre provides a range of training opportunities to help research and masters students adjust to the demands of academic writing in the UK Higher Education context. The annual SAS research training programme includes a series of sessions focused on academic writing, covering subjects such as writing introductions and conclusions, revising and reviewing your work, writing for different audiences, and footnotes and referencing software.

In addition, Dr Matthew Coneys – an experienced academic writer, editor and tutor – offers one-to-one and small-group tutorials for SAS students in which students can discuss any aspects of their academic writing. Topics typically discussed including difficulties structuring an argument, difficulties with planning and editing a long piece of writing, issues with grammar and sentence structure, and questions of style and writing convention in UK academia. All group and individual sessions are free of charge, and registration and booking details will be sent to all SAS students at the start of the academic year.

Study Online – our Virtual Learning Environment for SAS students – also hosts the online course “A Practical Guide to Projects and Dissertations” designed by the University's Centre for Distance Education and targeted in particular at Masters students planning their dissertations.

Plagiarism

The School of Advanced Study is committed to ensuring the quality and status of the degrees it awards through the University of London. Plagiarism is a threat to that quality and is a serious academic offence. Cases are dealt with under the University of London's Regulations for Proceedings in Respect of Assessment Offences: <https://my.london.ac.uk/assessment-offence-procedures>

What constitutes plagiarism?

Plagiarism is the taking of another person's thoughts, ideas, words, judgements, results, images etc. and presenting them as your own. If you submit any piece of work for assessment that contains work that is not your own, without indicating this to the marker (acknowledging your sources) you are committing 'plagiarism'.

The following are examples of plagiarism. These are not exhaustive:

- Direct quotations from published or unpublished work of others without due acknowledgement

- Copying the work of another student with or without their permission

- Using text downloaded from the internet without acknowledgement

- Borrowing statistics or assembled facts from another person or source

- Buying/borrowing an essay/report and presenting it as your own

- Copying graphs, images, charts etc. without proper citation

- Paraphrasing — putting another person's ideas and judgements into your own words without acknowledgement of the origin

- Submitting the same piece of your own assessed work (or a significant part thereof) more than once. Credit can only be given once.

Students should feel free to discuss these issues with the Programme Director or another member of staff at any time, but they should also recognise that they must take personal responsibility for the integrity of their academic writing, which includes learning what is expected of them by those responsible for marking their work.

If it is found that you have plagiarised, this may result in:

- Expulsion from the School

- A mark of zero

- A record on your student file

- Becoming the subject of an investigation

- Cancellation of your examinations

- Not being allowed to re-enter an examination

- Loss of reputation

When plagiarised material is included in your assignments, tutors are likely to notice the shift in style and are more than likely to recognise the source.

Referencing

All essays should be properly referenced according to the accepted style guide. See Style Guide for Essays and Dissertations above (Page 6).

Paraphrasing

Paraphrasing is where you restate information/ideas in your own words. However, just changing a few words here and there does not make them your own and you must still cite your source. Always check your paraphrasing against the original text to ensure that you haven't copied the same phrases.

Web sources

Treat information found on the web in exactly the same terms as printed material, but also make sure that you write the complete URL address and date accessed.

Agencies

Students should note that the use of, or contribution to, online essay banks, ghost-writing agencies, or agencies which offer to edit essays in order to improve grades is strictly forbidden.

What to do if you are suspected of plagiarism

You should co-operate fully with the investigation. It is in your interests to be open and honest. You should also seek help. Registry staff can direct those accused of plagiarism to sources of advice.

School responsibilities

The School recognises its responsibility for managing plagiarism and will undertake to:

Ensure that all its students are provided with information about plagiarism in the Handbooks and at induction. This will include what constitutes plagiarism, how to avoid it, and an idea of the penalties associated with it.

Ensure that students are given information on the correct referencing methods for the discipline.

Student Charter

The School is the UK's national centre for the support and promotion of research in the humanities and social sciences. Its nine research institutes at the University of London offer a unique scholarly community in which to pursue postgraduate study and research.

The Charter below sets out the rights and responsibilities of the School and its students.

The School's Responsibilities

The School undertakes to:

encourage its employees to treat students and colleagues equally and respectfully and to provide:

- high standards of teaching, support, advice and guidance
 - access to activities that will enhance employability and personal development support for student participation in academic development and programme management, including elections of representatives
 - clearly defined access to library and IT facilities
 - clear deadlines and timeframes – in programme handbooks – for feedback on work submitted by students.
 - programme handbooks for students which detail assessment criteria, contact hours, mode of delivery
 - details on examination arrangements and regulations, academic guidance and support, appeals and complaints procedures
 - clear information on programme costs, payment options and deadlines

Its teaching and supervisory staff undertake to:

- treat students responsibly and with respect
- familiarise themselves with the Quality Assurance Framework and School supervisory practice
- keep themselves up to date with best practice in relation to teaching and supervision, including undertaking, where appropriate, training in research student supervision
- be accessible to students during term time and advise them of any absence likely to exceed two successive weeks during the vacation
- respond to emails from students within a reasonable time-frame, and generally within three working days during term-time
- keep students informed in advance about prospective periods of leave and planned supervisory arrangements during the leave
- advise students on progress in a timely fashion and warn where work is not of the appropriate standard or is being produced too slowly, and of steps which might be taken to remedy the situation
- provide constructive timely feedback in writing on all written work submitted by the student and keep copies on file
- ensure that students understand the requirements of the degree, provide guidance on the examination process, and help students to prepare
- provide students with guidance as to essential reading, including information on where this may be found, before the start of the academic year if possible, or at induction
- avoid cancelling classes or meetings unless for a completely unavoidable reason, and always advise in good time; rearrange any cancelled classes/meetings
- treat student data with integrity and be aware of responsibilities in relation to the Data Protection, Freedom of Information and Equality Acts

Student' Responsibilities

Students undertake to:

- observe the Statutes, Ordinances and Regulations of the University of London
- treat staff and their fellow students equally and respectfully
- attend induction, read documentation provided, including regulations for their degree and student handbooks
- participate in timetabled classes, attend meetings with tutors
- obtain agreement from their tutors, in advance, for any essential absences
- take responsibility for managing their own learning: actively engaging in their course; ensuring they spend sufficient regular time in private study; participating fully in group learning activities; maintaining a record, in consultation with their supervisors, of supervisory meetings; inform supervisors promptly if circumstances arise which are likely to affect their work; discuss any teaching/supervisor problems with their supervisor(s) or with Institute Director (or other senior staff member)
- submit assessed work by stated deadlines, actively participate in feedback
- Comply with guidelines and procedures on ethical research, data protection matters, and be aware of health and safety and intellectual property implications
- make prompt payment of charges made by the institution
- support programme representatives and participate in systems which will lead to improvements in the quality of learning and teaching
- respect the physical environment of the University of London.

Admission

Your place to study for a postgraduate degree with us is subject to the following conditions:

- Provision of formal photographic identification upon formal registration (e.g. passport, photo driving licence)
- Satisfactory evidence of the qualifications which entitle you to be registered for the degree; two satisfactory references
- Evidence of attainment of the minimum standard required in written and spoken English if your first language is not English. (Institutes reserve the right to require you to withdraw from a programme if, in the opinion of the Programme Director, your proficiency in English is inadequate.)
- Prompt and full payment of tuition fees for the academic year in which you are registered. (See Tuition Fees, below.)

Students may be provisionally enrolled at the beginning of the programme for a period of two weeks, pending satisfaction of conditions relating to verification of qualifications and/or language requirements.

Please note that in registering for this degree programme, you are agreeing to abide by the current statutes, rules and regulations of the University of London, the School of Advanced Study and the Institute at which you are studying.

Copies of the full text of all such regulations are available from Registry and are available at: <http://www.sas.ac.uk/about-us/policies>

Registration and Induction

Email invitations will be sent out to students in mid-August with a link to the online registration system.

An induction to the School will be given on 23 September 2022 in person. Invites have been sent out to students.

Student and Staff Welcome Event

A welcome event will be held on 27 September at 5.30pm in the IHR Common Room. We look forward to seeing you all.

Tuition Fees

A copy of the School's comprehensive Tuition Fee Policy is and is viewable here: <http://www.sas.ac.uk/about-us/policies>. Key points from the Policy are outlined below.

You should ensure that you have the funds available to pay your fees before you embark on a programme. Payment of tuition fees in full or payment of the first instalment (25%) is required prior to registration. You will not be awarded your degrees or issued with your final marks unless you have paid all outstanding tuition fees.

University of London Online Payment System

Tuition fee payments should be made online via the University of London online payment system as part of your online registration task. Fees can be paid in full or via instalments. The outstanding tuition fee balance is also displayed.

Fee payment

Fees can either be paid in full or in four equal instalments, payable on the following dates:

Instalment 1: before or at registration

Instalment 2: 15 November 2022

Instalment 3: 15 January 2023

Instalment 4: 15 March 2023

Internally funded and sponsored students

Those in receipt of full (100%) SAS, AHRC or Institute studentships / bursaries will not be required to make any payments and therefore, the timeframes and deadlines given in respect of tuition fee payment, do not apply.

Those in receipt of partial SAS, AHRC or Institute studentships / bursaries will be required to pay the fee balances as outlined. You will be required pay online via the registration system. The outstanding balance displayed and will take into account all studentships / bursaries.

Externally funded and sponsored students

You accept responsibility for payment of fees even though a sponsor may in fact pay your fees. If you have sponsorship / scholarship funding (except those in receipt of SAS, AHRC or Institute studentships /bursaries) please ensure that you upload written confirmation of any award and payment arrangements -- dates, contact details to the registration system online.

Please note that you retain liability for payment of your entire fee should the sponsoring body default on a payment, or withdraw sponsorship.

Postgraduate Loan Recipients

Students who are in receipt of a student loan are required to use these funds to pay their tuition fees in the first instance. Any surplus may then be used to cover maintenance costs. Please upload a copy of your loan confirmation also. Your loan confirmation letter should contain full account details and a breakdown summary of payment schedule to the registration system online.

Research students' continuing fees

Research students are reminded that they should expect their fees to be subject to an annual uplift for their second and subsequent years of study.

Defaults on fee payments

If you default on any payment, you will be given 5 days to contact the Fees Office before we take action. Continued registration and progression from one year to the next is conditional on the appropriate fee being paid. If you are in financial difficulty, you should contact the Fees Office. Where there are financial problems we will try to come to an alternative financial arrangement.

Continuing students who have previously had a non-standard payment plan agreed with the Fees Office, but who have later defaulted on that plan, will not be granted another non-standard payment plan.

Help

If you have any queries about paying your fees, you can contact the team in the following ways:

Email: sas.fees@sas.ac.uk

Phone: 0207 862 8860 / 8400

- If you have a query with the tuition fee amount being charged
- To discuss a change to your current enrolment status which will affect your fees
- To discuss an alternative payment plan

SAS Student ID Card

As a School student, you will be issued with a multi-purpose identity card. The card serves as an ID card for entry to Senate House, for access to the University of London Union, and, outside the University, to enable you to benefit from discounts offered by suppliers, etc.

It also serves as a membership ID card to enable access to Senate House Library, the Warburg building, and the SAS libraries located in the IALS, IHR and ICS Institutes. To gain physical access to all SAS libraries you must first complete the online registration or renewal form, then visit the Senate House Library membership desk located on the 4th floor to activate your ID card.

Student ID cards for continuing students will be posted by the registry office. New students can collect their ID card on induction day from the Registry and Advice Centre, which is located on the ground floor of Senate House. Student ID cards can also be posted on request.

Lost cards carry a £5 replacement fee.

Email

SAS email accounts

SAS email addresses follow the format firstname.lastname@postgrad.sas.ac.uk. You should check your SAS email account regularly as academic and administrative staff will use them as the primary mode of contact. SAS email can be accessed remotely via the web at: <https://login.microsoftonline.com>. You will be prompted as follows:

Username (Email Address): firstname.lastname@postgrad.sas.ac.uk

Password: provided during registration (case sensitive)

Students are required to operate multi factor authentication on receipt of their email addresses. For help with this process please contact service@london.ac.uk

To access computers and SAS network

When you access SAS PC or online areas such as the SAS VLE (studyonline.sas.ac.uk), you will be prompted to enter the following:

Username: `firstname.lastname`

Password: provided during registration (case sensitive)

You will then be redirected. Once you are successfully re-directed, you should see the 'Secure Logon for Office 365 page'. Please enter the first part of your username (firstname.lastname), NOT your email address, and password and click on logon or press enter. Please see here for an Office365 userguide [PDF].

Everyware Service

The Everyware service provides Library members with free notebook and iPad loans for use within the Library. Library members (with valid SHL ID card) can borrow an Everyware device. These are available to use free of charge within the library – and give access to the internet, library services, Office 365, printing, and a range of accessibility software. etc. More information about this service can be found here.

Day ticket holders are not eligible to use this service, but are welcome to use the Library's desktop PCs or bring their own devices. (A small number of desktop PCs are also available in the Library for access to the Library's catalogue and e-resources.).

Passwords

Self-service password functionality has now been enabled for Office 365. This means you can now change your password in O365 yourself without having to contact the IT service desk. In addition to this, forgotten passwords can be reset from within office 365 after following a simple registration process.

Please take a moment to complete the registration process by following the guidelines here.

Eduroam (Wi-Fi Access)

Wireless networking is available to all SAS students via their School email accounts. Eduroam is a wireless network which allows users at the School to log in using their username and password. It is also available to SAS students visiting other participating organisations which include a large number of UK universities and abroad.

Connecting to Eduroam

Pick the "Eduroam" network from the list of Wi-Fi networks

Login using your username but replace '@postgrad.sas.ac.uk' with '@london.ac.uk' and password.

This will work anywhere where there is an Eduroam network

If you experience any issues, please contact the IT Service Desk by email, service@london.ac.uk.

Proper usage

By enrolling with the School you agree to abide by the University's Information Security Policy for the use of University of London IT equipment and systems (see <http://www.sas.ac.uk/about-us/policies>).

You must also comply with the University's Acceptable Use Policy

(<https://www.sas.ac.uk/sites/default/files/files/Policies/Acceptable%20Use%20Policy.pdf>) when using your SAS email address and SAS networks.

Expiry

Your email account can be retained for up to one year after your graduate. A reminder will be circulated beforehand expiry, giving you enough time to transfer all the contents of your mailbox elsewhere.

Attendance

Attendance or engagement will be measured by the number of points of contact over a particular period of time. These are as follows:

- For taught students, attendance at a timetabled lecture, tutorial, workshop or seminar within a calendar week. Online engagement – engagement at module level with the Virtual Learning Environment (VLE) within a calendar week. A test, examination or assessment; a research training session; an appointment with a welfare advisor or a formal appointment with professional services or academic staff; registration or enrolment.
- For research students, regular supervisory meetings, a research training session, an appointment with a welfare advisor or a formal appointment with professional services or academic staff within a calendar month.
- Submission of assessed or unassessed coursework, an interim dissertation, draft thesis chapters or a report.

For taught students there is a minimum requirement that the regularity of expected contact points is weekly during term-time regardless of mode of study;

For research students there is a minimum requirement that the regularity of expected contact points is monthly;

Expected contact points are not required during authorised periods of interruption, i.e. when a student is formally permitted by the School to defer their studies for an agreed period.

Expected contact points are not required outside of term time, however, the following exceptions apply:

- i. Postgraduate taught students on a 12-month programme are expected to be engaged with their individual project during the summer, i.e. after the end of term (June). During this period there is a minimum requirement that the regularity of expected contact points is monthly.
- ii. Postgraduate research students do not operate within conventional term times. Any time taken away from study is done in agreement between the student and their Supervisor, during which expected contact points are not required.

What constitutes a contact

- (a) Attending formal academic or pastoral care activities including:
 - (i) a lesson, lecture, tutorial or seminar;
 - (ii) a test, examination or assessment board;
 - iii. a meeting with a supervisor or personal tutor;
 - (iv) a research-method or research-panel meeting, writing up seminars or doctoral workshops;
 - (v) an appointment with a welfare advisor or international student advisor;
- (b) Submitting:
 - (i) assessed or unassessed coursework; or
 - (ii) an interim dissertation, coursework or report;
- (c) Registration (for enrolment or matriculation)

The module leaders for taught programmes and PhD supervisors will keep records of attendance. A student must contact their Student Officer in Registry or their supervisor by email if they wish to request to miss a contact due, for example, to illness. This request must be authorised and will be kept on file. Failure to do so will result in this being counted as a missed contact.

Attendance Policy for students with visas

In addition to the above, if a student on a student visa does not attend ten expected consecutive contacts, we are required to inform the Home Office, and this might lead to withdrawing our sponsorship.

Where permission is not sought the following procedures will apply:

- i. after three missed contacts, the student will be contacted by their Student Officer or Supervisor to ascertain the reason for absence;
- ii. after six missed contacts, the student will be contacted again by the Student Officer or Supervisor to ascertain the reason for absence and to inform them that the Programme Director and Head of Registry Services will be notified;

- iii. after eight missed contacts, the student will be invited to a meeting with the Programme Director and/or Head of Registry Services to discuss their attendance;
 - iv. after nine missed contacts, the student will be written to officially informing them that they must get in touch and that the Home Office will be informed if one further contact is missed.

All students

If a student is unable to attend, they must notify the University; if this is not done, the absence will count as a missed point of contact.

For absences of more than 10 consecutive working days, students must complete an authorised absence form. This form must be authorised by their Programme Director or supervisor, and lodged with the Registry.

Where possible, a request for authorised absence should be submitted in advance. Authorisation for unplanned absences may be submitted up to 5 working days after the last day of absence. Requests for authorised absence submitted after 5 working days may not be considered.

Authorised absence forms must be supported by appropriate evidence. This may include, but is not limited to, medical evidence such as a doctor's note where this has been necessary invitations to family events, confirmation of a job interview or other official documentation.

The School will consider requests for authorised absence sensitively and will try to accommodate all reasonable requests. However, where an absence may have a detrimental effect on a student's academic progress, or where absence levels are already of concern, such requests may not be granted.

Prolonged absence caused by sickness must be reported to the registry, and where relevant medical evidence must be provided

Postgraduate Taught (PGT) students

Attendance will usually be monitored in at least one timetabled session per module per week. These could be workshops, seminars, tutorials etc.

An entire week with no attendance at any module will normally be considered as a missed contact.

Where a taught student is studying overseas as part of a distance learning programme, Erasmus exchange or on study abroad, responsibility for recording attendance will lie with the partner institution, who must inform the student's course director /registry of four consecutive days missed contact within 7 working days and must supply attendance records on request within 5 working days.

Where a taught student is undertaking a work placement, regular contact with the placement tutor or placement team will serve as evidence of ongoing attendance and engagement. Such contact is usually expected to take place on a monthly basis. An entire calendar month without a point of contact will normally be considered as a missed contact.

Distance learning students

Distance learning students' engagement is also measured by the means outlined in section 4.1 above. Engagement will be determined and monitored by the programme team. The University retains the right to withdraw a student for lack of engagement, following prior warning emails.

Cause for concern

The school defines the maximum length of time during which contact does not take place which will be deemed to constitute cause for concern as two weeks plus for taught students or two months for postgraduate research students regardless of mode of study. Following this period the cause for concern will be escalated- see following section.

Escalation

The University will make every effort to avoid having to initiate the formal attendance escalation procedure. However, if informal attempts to contact and re-engage a student are unsuccessful, the following procedure will apply:

At the point that a cause for concern has been raised by a tutor or supervisor a formal email will be sent from the registry warning the student about attendance and requesting that they contact their Tutor/Supervisor/Registry to discuss any issues.

If after 7 days there is no response, the student will be contacted again to ascertain the reason for absence and to inform them that the Programme Director/ Supervisor and Head of Registry services will be notified.

If after 14 days there is no response, the student will be invited to a meeting with the Programme Director or Supervisor and/or Head of Registry Services to discuss their attendance and a warning will be issued that the student is in danger of being withdrawn from the programme.

If the student is studying on a student visa, then the student is warned that further missed contacts would necessitate a report to the Home Office and the visa being revoked.

The student is given 10 days to respond to this invitation.

During this 10-day window, if a student supplies new evidence to support their absence, the school may use discretion to consider this. Where appropriate, this may halt withdrawal proceedings, if it is deemed that the evidence is sufficiently strong to retrospectively grant authorised absence, and the student is able to catch up with their studies.

If a student fails to submit a request for interruption within 10 working days, they will be written to again stating that they will be withdrawn if they do not engage with the process. The student is given a further 10 working days to respond after which the student will be informed in writing that formal withdrawal will take place. This withdrawal should happen no later than the 12th working day after the written notification.

Repeated patterns of intermittent unauthorized absence may also be considered sufficient grounds to initiate a withdrawal.

Appeals against a withdrawal

Grounds for Appeal

Students have the right to appeal against a withdrawal by default on the following grounds:

- a. That there are extenuating circumstances relating to ill health or personal difficulties which the student was unable to raise prior to or during the escalation procedure detailed in Section 7 and/or
- b. That the information held by the School relating to the student's attendance and/or engagement is incomplete or inaccurate, and the student was not in a position to correct this information at an earlier stage.

Students wishing to appeal must show a compelling reason why this information could not be made available before the decision to withdraw was reached, and provide supporting documentary evidence. Where the student could have made the information available prior to the decision being made, such evidence cannot normally be accepted as grounds for appeal.

How to Appeal

Appeals must be received no later than 10 working days after the date of email notification of the withdrawal. An acknowledgement email will be issued on receipt of the appeal.

Appeals received after the 10 working day deadline will be deemed out of time and will not normally be considered. The student will be issued with a Completion of Procedures letter including details of the Office of the Independent Adjudicator Scheme (see Section 9).

In exceptional cases only, a late appeal may be considered provided that the submission is accompanied by detailed and supported reasons for the late submission.

The appeal should be submitted in writing using the Student Attendance Monitoring Policy Appeal Form.

Original evidence must be provided in support of the appeal and listed on the Appeal Form. If evidence cannot be provided with the appeal form, it must be submitted no later than 5 working days after submission of the appeal form.

Consideration of the Appeal

The appeal will be forwarded in its entirety to the Head of Registry Services, where it will initially be established that School records are accurate in relation to the issues raised in the appeal.

The Head of Registry Services will liaise with the Programme director to provide a response to the student within 15 working days of receipt of the appeal.

The School is empowered to make one of the following decisions:

- a. To dismiss the appeal if it is determined that no substantive case has been established. The appeal procedure within the University will be at an end, in which case the student will be given the reasons for the decision in writing. This will contain a Completion of Procedures statement including details of the OIA Scheme (see Section 9).
- b. To uphold the appeal and request Registry to reinstate the student's registration with or without a recommendation that the student be granted a retrospective period of authorised absence. The School may specify conditions of reinstatement and the consequences of the student failing to adhere to these conditions. Should subsequent failure to adhere to these conditions result in the student's withdrawal, the student has a further right of appeal on the grounds detailed in 8.1 above.
- c. To rescind the withdrawal decision and offer a period of interruption in light of relevant issues which may be raised in the appeal submission. If the offer of interruption is rejected by the student, the original withdrawal decision stands. The student will be given a Completion of Procedures letter containing details of the OIA Scheme (see Section 9). If the issues raised within the appeal submission are considered to potentially affect the student's ability to study on return to the University, the case may be referred to the Fitness to Study procedure.

- d. To refer the appeal to a meeting of the Academic Appeals Committee, in which case the procedure outlined in Sections 7 and 8 of the Academic Appeals Procedure will apply.

External Adjudication

Students who have been issued with a Completion of Procedures letter may be able to complain to the Office of the Independent Adjudicator if they remain dissatisfied with a final decision of the University, providing that their complaint is eligible under its Rules, which are available on the OIA website at <http://www.oiahe.org.uk>

Library resources

Senate House Library (SHL)

As a student of the School you can take advantage of free Senate House Library membership and benefit from access to millions of books, study spaces, free notebook loans, plus a superb range of academic databases.

Senate House Library now offers remote electronic registration for immediate access to e-resources whilst outside the library.

To register for library membership, please complete the following steps:

Continuing students

1. If you have an existing library membership, complete the School of Advanced Study Renewal Form
2. On your first visit to Senate House, bring your student ID card to the membership desk on the 4th floor of Senate House Library to activate your ID card and complete your membership

New students

1. Complete the School of Advanced Study Registration Form
2. On your first visit to Senate House, bring your student ID card to the membership desk on the 4th floor of Senate House Library to activate your ID card and complete your membership.

Once your SAS ID card has been activated by a member of staff at Senate House Library, you can borrow books and enjoy the Library's Services, Collections and study spaces.

Students of the Warburg Institute will be issued with a separate library card on induction day for access to the Warburg library. Non-Warburg students must bring their SAS ID card to the Warburg library Reading Room enquiries desk to register for a Warburg library card.

Students studying via Distance Learning can email a scanned copy of their SAS ID card to the Senate House Library membership services team on shl.membership@london.ac.uk so that the membership expiry matches the date of expiry on the ID card, otherwise electronic registrations will need to be renewed every 4 months.

For any queries relating to library membership, please contact the Senate House Library membership services team on: shl.membership@london.ac.uk

Further information on Senate House Library, including borrowing rights can be found here.

SHL holdings

Senate House Library's holdings cover the humanities and social sciences with particular subject strengths in: English; Economic and Social History; History (its collections complement the IHR); Modern Languages (primarily Romance and some Germanic); Geography, Music, Philosophy and Psychology.

The Library has extensive area studies collections in United States, Latin American (including Caribbean) and Commonwealth Studies. Many British Government Publications are available digitally.

The Library's Historic Collections houses an impressive 12 million catalogued items, substantial and unique holdings in rare books, 55 named Special Collections and over 40 collections of archives and manuscripts. The distinctive strengths of the Historic Collections are in 17th to 19th century book holdings, historic periodicals and palaeography.

Location

The Library entrance is on the fourth floor, Senate House. Scan your SAS card at the entry gates to enter.

Student accessibility (see also below: Disability)

The Library offers extra services for disabled students:

- the option of using a proxy borrower to find and borrow items
- a fetch request service
- and extended loans.

Find out more about services for disabled students.

SAS Institute Libraries

Four of the SAS Institutes have internationally renowned research libraries. You can access any of the Institute libraries, on presentation of your ID card. Different borrowing rights apply at different Institutes. For further information, see the Institutes' websites (available via www.sas.ac.uk).

Warburg students are issued with a separate library card for access to the Warburg library. These will be issued by the Warburg Institute on Induction Day. Non-Warburg students must bring their SAS ID card to the library Reading Room enquiries desk to register for a Warburg library card.

The University of London Library Access Agreement

The University of London Library Access Agreement enables the School's masters students to access nearly all of the libraries of the institutions which make up the federal University of London (www.lon.ac.uk) on production of their SAS cards. The value of this arrangement to University of London students is that it offers you access to books and other library materials in subject areas that are often unrivalled and which have been built over many years

For more information on the libraries the agreement allows access to and/or to view a copy of the agreement, please visit: www.london.ac.uk/libraries_agreement.html.

School of Oriental and African Studies (SOAS) Library

SAS students are able to use the nearby SOAS library and take advantage of their extended opening hours. SAS students will need to apply for a SOAS library card from the SOAS membership desk and will need to produce their SAS ID card in order to do so. Please visit this page for further information: <https://www.soas.ac.uk/library/using/admission/londonuni/>

Other Libraries

SAS students can gain access to many other libraries in London that have close academic links with the School including the British Library, the University of London Institute in Paris, the Wellcome Library for the History of Medicine, the Society of Antiquaries of London, and the Bibliographical Society.

The combined catalogue of CURL (the Consortium of University and Research Libraries) which is available at www.copac.ac.uk and through a direct link from the ULRIS catalogue, provides a convenient way of searching many library catalogues simultaneously.

Access arrangements to other libraries vary considerably, and it is always advisable to check these before visiting. Your institute or the Registry can provide proof of student status where necessary.

SCONUL Access Scheme

SAS students studying for an MRes, PhD or MPhil are permitted to use other Libraries within the UK through the SCONUL Access Scheme.

Please check that the Library you wish to visit is part of the SCONUL Access scheme. Complete the SCONUL Access application form online via the SCONUL website. If your application is approved, please print the confirmation email and take it to the institution you wish to join.

If you have a question please get in touch with the appropriate person at your Institute Library

Library computer resources

This agreement provides for reference access to the federal University of London's institutional libraries by all members of the University of London and supplements the national Sconul Access scheme. More information can be found here.

Library computer resources

Please note that you are required to observe instructions on virus protection and the Janet Acceptable Use Policy, available at: <https://community.ja.net/library/acceptable-use-policy>. Computer use is monitored and the downloading of material of an offensive nature will be treated extremely seriously.

Everyware at Senate House Library

SAS students have free access to the Library's Everyware service

(<http://www.senatehouselibrary.ac.uk/using-the-library/library-services/everyware/>).

With Everyware you can borrow Apple MacBook Airs, MacBook Pros, iPads and Windows notebooks for use in the Library. Everyware notebooks have Microsoft Office installed. Senate House Library provides free WiFi (<http://www.senatehouselibrary.ac.uk/using-the-library/help/connect-wifi>)

throughout its spaces and collections to connect your Everyware device or your personal notebook to the internet. As a SAS faculty and student member of the Library, you can use your name and SAS card number to login to an extensive range of academic databases (<http://www.senatehouselibrary.ac.uk/our-collections/databases-and-eresources/>). All School spaces (Senate House (second and third floors)) are fully wifi enabled.

Documents can be printed out in the Library from any device with an internet connection. Find out more about your printing options (<http://www.senatehouselibrary.ac.uk/using-the-library/library-services/copying-printing-and-scanning>).

Specialist software

Specialist research software is available in the Library Training Suite (SPSS, NVivo etc), and in the Senate House study space on the second floor of Senate House, Room 265. Disability-access hardware and software is also available. Priority is given to those who wish to use these pcs for specialist work.

Virtual Learning Environment / Study Online

The School has a Virtual Learning Environment (VLE) called Study Online which is a dedicated area for students enabling them to access training resources and to interact with fellow students across the School.

An introduction to the VLE will be given at the School's induction. Links to the VLE/Study Online are available on individual Institute websites, the postgraduate study pages of the SAS website or via <https://studyonline.sas.ac.uk/login/index.php>. You will need to enter your password and username (given at registration) to access it.

SAS-Space e-repository

SAS-SPACE - <http://sas-space.sas.ac.uk/> - is the digital repository for the School of Advanced Study. The mission of SAS-SPACE is to provide a stable, well-managed, permanent repository for digital scholarly and research materials of enduring value produced at, or in association with, the School. SAS-SPACE is also the platform for digital collections and archives of individuals, scholarly societies and other bodies associated with the School.

All SAS students are required to submit the final version of their thesis/dissertation electronically. If a dissertation receives a mark of merit or distinction its deposition in SAS Space is mandatory (except in special circumstances). Detailed guidance as to how to do this will be given to you in due course.

SASiety

SASiety is a student-run organisation for all SAS students, of all ages, from all institutes, studying all programmes; Master's students, PhD students and Fellows are welcome to join us! Rather than a union, they are about ensuring that SAS students get to meet more people, and gain social and academic contacts and support. Their aim is to create a sense of community here at SAS in Senate House and to provide a social space for fun events and ideas. They organise regular meet-ups and events, and look forward to welcoming you to the common room in 101 (Senate House).

Academic Writing Support

The School's Doctoral Centre provides a range of training opportunities to help research and masters students adjust to the demands of academic writing in the UK Higher Education context. The annual SAS research training programme includes a series of sessions focused on academic writing, covering subjects such as writing introductions and conclusions, revising and reviewing your work, writing for different audiences, and footnotes and referencing software.

In addition, Dr Matthew Coneys – an experienced academic writer, editor and tutor – offers one-to-one and small-group tutorials for SAS students in which students can discuss any aspects of their academic writing. Topics typically discussed including difficulties structuring an argument, difficulties with planning and editing a long piece of writing, issues with grammar and sentence structure, and questions of style and writing convention in UK academia. All group and individual sessions are free of charge, and registration and booking details will be sent to all SAS students at the start of the academic year.

Study Online – our Virtual Learning Environment for SAS students – also hosts the online course “A Practical Guide to Projects and Dissertations” designed by the University’s Centre for Distance Education and targeted in particular at Masters students planning their dissertations.

Student Representatives’ Committee

Institute student representatives – Research and Masters - sit on the School Student Representatives’ Committee, which deals with student matters throughout the School. Institutes will consult their student body at the start of the autumn term to seek representatives. Members of the SAS Student Reps’ Committee sits on SAS and School committees and the Research and Research Ethics Committees and act as a representative of the whole School student body.

Careers

The SAS Careers Service provides support for students and recent graduates across all the SAS institutes. Your SAS Careers Consultant is here to help and advise you. We offer one-to-one careers advice and coaching as well as workshops and webinars. You will find the weekly SAS job vacancy bulletin, online job hunting help sheets and professional sector guides in the careers section in SAS Study Online.

The SAS Careers Service offers:

- Regular workshops and webinars with topics such as “Applying for PhD – why, where and how?” and ‘Effective Job Hunting Online’. The details of these sessions will be sent to your SAS email account and you will also receive a regular careers bulletin sent to your SAS account.
- 1:1 30 minute careers advice appointments: These are confidential and personalised to you. Common issues include career development next steps, further study options, job hunting advice, CV review, and job interview preparation To book an appointment, please book via <https://bit.ly/SASCareers121booking>
- Email guidance. You can email us with your careers-related questions or request feedback on CVs, application forms or covering letters (in which case, do send us a copy of the job ad, too) We aim to provide a response within 3 working days.

For any careers queries, contact the SAS Careers Service email sascareers@careers.lon.ac.uk

Travel

18+ Student Oyster photocard

Full-time SAS students can apply for a TfL 18+ Student Oyster photocard. Part-time postgraduate students are not eligible to apply unless they are receiving financial help from the Access to Learning Fund (see below).

A Student Oyster card entitles the holder to 30% savings on the cost of adult Travelcards and Bus & Tram Pass season tickets valid for 7 days, one month or longer periods of up to one year. There is a £20 fee for the photocard.

You can apply for your 18+

Oyster photocard at <https://photocard.tfl.gov.uk/tfl/gotoApply.do?type=student&from=home>

To complete your application you will need:

- Your nine digit unique student number (located on the front of your SAS Student Card)
- A digital photograph
- A debit or credit card to pay the application fee

Please note that the establishment name you should select when making your application is 'School of Advanced Study' (not your institute of study). Once you have made your application, it goes to the Registry for online verification. This may take a few days.

Funding your studies

Grants and Studentships

AHRC studentships

The School, with King's and UCL, is part of the London Arts & Humanities Partnership (www.lahp.ac.uk) and through this offers studentships under the Arts and Humanities Research Council (AHRC) scheme. LAHP studentships, awarded on a competitive basis, cover fees and maintenance, and are available to UK and EU full and part-time students. As well as doctoral students about to enter their first year of study, those about to start their second year of doctoral study may also apply. Further details on the LAHP competition are available from the LAHP website, or from the LAHP office based in Senate House (info@lahp.ac.uk).

Postgraduate Master's Loan Scheme

The UK Government has introduced a Postgraduate Master's Loan. These non-means-tested loans are available to both taught and research master's students. Find out more information about the loan scheme.

UK PhD Government Loans

You may be eligible for a UK PhD loan of up to £26,445 from Student Finance England or Student Finance Wales for a doctoral degree in any subject. These loans will be available to English-resident students and support all types of doctorate degree at universities within the UK. Find out more details about eligibility and repayment.

US Federal Loans – William D Ford Federal Direct Loans

The School of Advanced Study participates in the Federal Direct Loan programme:

<http://www.sas.ac.uk/graduate-study/fees-and-funding/other-funding-sources/federal-direct-loans-usstudents>

Unsubsidized Loans and Plus Loans are available through the Direct Loan programme operated by the US Education Department. Direct Loans are educational loans to assist US citizens with the costs of studying. Unsubsidized Direct Loans should be considered first as this is usually the cheapest way of borrowing. If needed, additional funding should then be considered by applying for a Direct Plus Loan. The maximum total borrowed from Direct Loans cannot exceed the annual maximum Cost of Attendance as set by the School. The School's Direct Loan Federal Code is G06696 listed under 'School of Advanced Study – University of London'

Applying for Federal Loans at the School of Advanced Study

You should have accepted an unconditional offer for a place on an on-campus degree at the School and be an eligible US citizen to apply for a US Federal Direct Loan. Please note that only on-campus degree students are eligible for Federal Direct Loans at SAS. Students studying by distance-learning or at certificate or diploma level are not eligible. There are a number of steps to applying for a Direct Loan. Applications usually take 4-6 weeks to be processed so early application is advised.

Contact details for US Loan queries: Kalinda Hughes, Head of Registry Services.

Email: sas.fees@sas.ac.uk; tel: +44 (0)20 7862 8873; fax: +44 (0)20 7862 8657.

SAS Hardship Grant

The SAS Hardship Grant provides discretionary financial assistance for all students – particularly to meet extra costs that cannot be met from other sources of support. The Fund is intended to alleviate financial hardship. An application can also be made for research students who wish to attend courses or conferences and who do not have the funds to pay for this themselves.

You can apply for help from the Fund at any time during the academic year. Application forms can be downloaded here.

Further information

Additional sources of funding for UK, EU and overseas are listed here: <http://www.sas.ac.uk/graduatestudy/fees-and-funding> . There are a number of useful sites which collate information on smaller, more niche funders: <http://www.sas.ac.uk/graduate-study/fees->

and-funding/other-funding-sources

State benefits

The majority of students cannot apply for benefits. Exceptions may include lone parents, students with disabilities, pensioners, and part-time students on low incomes. Students should contact their local benefits office for more details or browse the Direct Gov web site at www.direct.gov.uk/en/index.htm.

Council Tax

The Council Tax is a tax payable on dwellings. If you are a full-time student you are exempt from paying Council Tax. You will not have to pay Council Tax if you live in:

- University Halls of Residence;
- A shared house or flat where all residents are students.

If you live in a bedsit or rent a room from a landlord, the landlord should be responsible for payment of Council Tax.

If you live in a house with non-students, Council Tax will probably apply and the other occupants may wish to pass on some of the cost to you.

If you are a full-time student living at home with a lone parent your parent should be able to claim 25% discount on their Council Tax. If you are a full-time student living with both parents there will be no reduction to their Council Tax bill.

Registry can provide full-time students with written confirmation of student registration and eligibility for Council Tax exemption – please fill in the ‘Student Letter Request Form’, which can be found at the SAS website (<https://www.sas.ac.uk/current-students>), under the section ‘Key Information’.

Student welfare: advice and guidance

Academic advice

Programme tutors will normally be responsible for guiding you through your degree and helping you with any personal or administrative problems. If this proves to be unsuitable, you may contact Registry or your Institute Manager who will be able to advise on an alternative.

Personal safety

London is one of the most interesting and vibrant capital cities in the world; it is also one of the safest. However, as in any large, busy city, crime is a problem so you do need to take care about personal safety and looking after your belongings. Being so centrally located, the area surrounding the University of London is susceptible to crime. Please see <https://www.cityoflondon.police.uk/cp/crime-prevention/>, which gives useful advice and tips on how to stay safe.

Mentoring and Counselling

The School offers mentoring sessions for students who are undergoing periods of academic pressure or are dealing with unexpected and adverse life events that are affecting their emotional wellbeing. Mentoring sessions are conducted with colleagues from Equality Focus in a private and confidential setting. Counselling is more appropriate for emotional problems. The counsellor (again from Equality Focus) will not tell you what to do, but will, instead, provide a non-judgemental forum in which you can discuss and think about your difficulties. Mentoring is more active and is better suited to the resolution of academic problems (e.g. issues of timetabling, dissertation planning, exam preparation, etc). To make a counselling or mentoring appointment, please contact the Registry who can refer you or alternatively contact Katie Wood the Disability & Student Wellbeing Adviser directly at student.wellbeing@sas.ac.uk.

If you have longer term mental health difficulties, you may wish to consider declaring this as a disability. This may thus entitle you to counselling from the School's advisors. This counselling is specifically geared to assisting you complete your studies successfully.

Students may also find the following contact numbers useful.

For general welfare advice: Nightline (6 pm to 8 am): 020 7631 0101

For legal advice

Citizens' Advice Bureau: www.adviceguide.org.uk. The local bureau for the School is: 3rd Floor, Holborn Library, 32-38 Theobalds Road, London, WC1X 8PA, tel: 08451 202965.

Community Legal Service Direct: www.clsdirect.org.uk: enables users to find providers funded by the Legal Services Commission (LSC)

For advice on debt: National Debtline: 0808 808 4000; www.nationaldebtline.co.uk

Counselling services

If you choose not to use the School's in-house counselling services, you may be eligible to use other services in the area.

Waterloo Counselling Service: <http://www.waterloocc.co.uk/>

Offers general counselling services as well as multi ethnic counselling

Tel 020 7928 3462; Barley Mow Clinic, Frazier Street, London, SE1 7BD

Please note that there is a cost for this service (approximately £10 per session for students)

Mental Health

The School takes its responsibility towards student mental health very seriously. It has strengthened its support in this area and now offers regular mental health awareness programmes to student-facing staff and students.

If you would prefer not to discuss your concerns with a member of staff at the Institute, you can contact student.wellbeing@sas.ac.uk directly. The Disability & Student Wellbeing Adviser provides a safe, confidential and non-judgmental space in which students can discuss any issues that may be affecting your ability to study. This encompasses: any personal or emotional challenges you may be experiencing; mental health such as anxiety or depression or disability such as dyslexia or a long-term health condition.

Mind: www.mind.org.uk/: a national charity which can provide help and advice to students experiencing any form of mental distress

Depression: www.studentdepression.org and <https://charliewaller.org/> have helpful information and advice

Health

You are advised to register with a local doctor (GP surgery). All students including overseas students (and their dependants) are entitled to health care under the NHS. If you are living near here, you may wish to register at one of the GP surgeries nearby:

- Gower Street Practice, 20 Gower Street London WC1E 6DP, telephone 020 7467 6800
- Ridgmount Practice, 8 Ridgmount Street, London, London, WC1E 7AA, 0207387 6306
- Brunswick Medical Centre, 39 Brunswick London WC1N 1NF; telephone 020 7837 3811
- The Museum Practice, 58 Great Russell Street, London, WC1B 3BA, 02074052739

If you live outside the catchment areas for the GP surgeries listed above, or wish to choose another, you should visit the NHS Choices website, where you can search for local doctors and dentists: www.nhs.uk/servicedirectories/Pages/ServiceSearch.aspx.

Overseas students

There are several sources of information and support available for overseas students.

- UK Council for International Student Affairs (UKCISA):, www.ukcisa.org.uk/, Tel: outside the UK +44 20 7107 9922 | inside the UK is 020 7107 9922.
- British Council Education UK: www.britishcouncil.org, www.educationuk.org, Tel: 0161 957 7755
- British Refugee Council: www.refugeecouncil.org.uk, Tel: 020 7346 6700.

- International Students' House, 229 Great Portland Street, London, W1W 5PN, www.ish.org.uk, Tel 020 7631 8300.

Overseas students' obligations

International students need to apply for Student Visas for enter to UK. For detailed information on the student visa application process, please visit the UK Visa and Immigration (UKVI) website: <https://www.gov.uk/student-visa>

Under this system, the School has a number of legal responsibilities in order to fulfil its obligations as a student sponsor. If you enter the UK on a student visas you should be aware of these. The UKVI website lists both the sponsor's and student's obligations in full, but please note that we are legally required to:

- keep copies of students' passports, visas and Biometric Residence Permits (BRPs);
- keep up-to-date contact details for students; and
- inform the UKVI if a student fails to enrol on their programme, stops their studies or misses 10 expected 'contacts' on their programmes of study without reasonably granted permission
- maintain contact with the student.

Equality and diversity

The School of Advanced Study aims to provide an environment where everyone can access its programmes and activities – conferences, workshops and seminars, library provision and teaching programmes. The School of Advanced Study is proud of the diversity of its community and is committed to ensuring all of our staff and students are treated with dignity and respect. We welcome all students who are academically qualified and motivated to benefit from the programmes we offer through the member Institutes.

The School is committed to treating all people with equally, irrespective of any of the 'Protected Characteristics' as defined by the Equality Act 2010. The protected characteristics are age, disability including mental health, gender re-assignment, marriage and civil partnership, pregnancy and maternity, race, religion or belief, sex and sexual orientation.

The School is covered by the University of London's key equality policies, for example the Equal Opportunities Policy and other such schemes. However, to ensure that the School is meeting all the legislative requirements and in line with best practice we have developed our own Statement and Action Plans.

The School believes that engagement in the development of equality policies and related action plans are very important. We uphold the principle that all students and members of staff have a right to be involved in matters that affect them. So we are always keen to hear your feedback.

Disability

The School of Advanced Study has a Disability & Student Wellbeing Adviser. Students who have notified the School of a disability should have received a Pre-Entry Support Needs form (new students) or Support Needs Form (continuing students) to complete. If you have not received a form, please contact the Registry as quickly as possible. If you would like to speak to our Disability & Student Wellbeing Adviser direct, please contact Katie Wood at student.wellbeing@sas.ac.uk.

Please:

- let us know about your needs in good time so that we have the appropriate opportunity to address those needs
- give both positive and negative feedback so that we can improve our services. Let us know if the recommendations for your support are not carried out and you do not receive alternative format handouts, for example
- let us know if your situation changes and you need more, or different kinds, of support.

Access to Institutes and offices

Most of the Institutes and offices of the School are located in Senate House. The exceptions are the Institute for Advanced Legal Studies (17 Russell Square) and the Warburg Institute (Woburn Square).

Senate House is a listed building and as such there are some limitations to the alterations that can be made. However, wheelchair users and those with reduced mobility are able to access all necessary facilities although it may not always be easy for them to do so in a fully independent way.

A number of teaching and meeting rooms in Senate House are equipped with a fixed induction loop system for hearing-impaired students, and there is a mobile induction loop system for use elsewhere.

The Institute of Advanced Legal Studies and the Warburg Institute are in nearby buildings which have ramps, lifts, and accessible toilets. Again, although wheelchair users and those with reduced mobility are able to access all necessary facilities, it is not always easy for them to do so in a fully independent way.

It is possible to arrange for new students with impaired vision to be accompanied both within the building and to the tube station or bus stop, until they have become familiar with these routes. The School's external disabilities advisors can help arrange this in conjunction with Camden's Sensory Disabilities Team.

Senate House Library (see also above)

The following services are available for disabled student library users:

- A retrieving book service (that is, getting books from shelves);
- Arranging borrowing rights for proxies;
- Membership cards for people supporting the disabled user, or their carers;
- Extended loans.

Contact SHL.accessibilitysupport@london.ac.uk tel 0207 862 8468

Using Computers

Disabled students who qualify for the DSA may receive support for computer purchase. Remote email access and web access to the Library's electronic research resources and journals are available.

Advice on personal computer adaptation can be obtained free from AbilityNet (www.abilitynet.org.uk). AbilityNet will also carry out assessments of individual need.

There is specialist software available for visually impaired students.

Transport

Most people access Senate House and the Bloomsbury area by public transport. Some disabled people living in the London area may be eligible for a London Transport Freedom Pass (www.freedompass.org) which allows free travel on public transport; the borough where you live will be able to tell you if you are eligible.

Transport for London's Access and Mobility unit has information about schemes such as Dial-a-Ride and Taxicard for subsidised door-to-door transport for people who have serious mobility impairment and difficulty in using public transport, as well as an extensive range of guides: <http://www.tfl.gov.uk/tfl/gettingaround/accessibility-guides/default.aspx>

Emergency Evacuation

If you have a disability which might cause delay in recognising or responding to an emergency alarm, a personal emergency evacuation plan will be agreed. If your disability is likely to affect your ability to evacuate the building, we should notify your tutors of your evacuation plan, so that others know how to help you in an emergency.

Residential Accommodation

Disabled students are eligible to apply for accommodation in the University of London Intercollegiate Halls, a number of which have a quota of specially-adapted rooms for students with disabilities.

Disabled Students' Allowances (DSA) Arrangements

Home students, and some EU students, are eligible for the Disabled Students' Allowances (DSA). There is one DSA allowance for postgraduate students to meet disability-related programme costs of up to £25,575. More information is available at: www.direct.gov.uk/en/DisabledPeople/EducationAndTraining/HigherEducation/DG_10034898.

The allowances are not means-tested and there is no age limit.

The DSA is administered by Student Finance England or Research Councils. Equality Focus can assist students in applying for it, and can help to arrange the study needs assessment which is required to access the allowances.

Other Sources Of Information – The website www.childcare.co.uk gives useful guidance in types of childcare. You can also search for childcare providers, including child-minders.

Childminders

A registered childminder is someone who can look after your child from their own home. To gain registration the childminder's home is inspected by the government to ensure that it is a safe environment for children. In addition childminders have to provide references, prove that they are healthy, trained and are checked by the police. Government inspections are carried out on a regular basis. Childminders can look after children of any age although the regulations on registration only apply when they are looking after children under the age of eight. The government also stipulates that childminders can look after up to six children under the age of eight. Of those six, no more than three can be under the age of five and of those no more than one should be under the age of one. Childminders can be more flexible than day nurseries and are often cheaper.

Student Emergency Contact Protocol

1. All students are asked to provide details of an emergency contact when registering for their programme. This information is held on the School's student record system, in accordance with the principles set out in the General Data Protection Regulation.
2. Students can nominate anyone they choose to be their emergency contact - it need not necessarily be their legal next of kin. Students should, however, let that person know that they have been nominated as the emergency contact and that their contact details will be given to the University. Students should also ensure that the emergency contact has given permission to be an emergency contact. Wherever possible, students should give a mobile phone number as well as a landline so that contact can be made quickly.
3. Students are asked each year (via registration) to confirm their emergency contact information for the University. They are also asked to up to date these details via their registration task. Students may change these and other personal details at any time by contacting the Registry Office at taught.degrees@sas.ac.uk or research.degrees@sas.ac.uk.

Emergency contacts and data protection

4. There is often concern about the sharing of information and whether it breaches data protection law. The GDPR and the UK Data Protection Act 2018 does not prevent the University raising concerns where there is a serious health or welfare issue without obtaining the consent of the student. The University has the legal grounds to do this where it assesses that the 'vital interests' of the individual are at stake. Where the circumstances described below apply, there is no data protection barrier to notifying the emergency contact. Similar grounds cover the sharing of data with emergency services or a health professional.

Circumstances when the School may use an emergency contact

5. The University can use emergency contact information where there is demonstrable concern for the life and wellbeing of a student. This is most likely to be when there are serious concerns for the welfare of the individual student. Examples of circumstances when a decision might possibly be made to get in touch with the emergency contact may include:

- Where the University is made aware of the emergency admission to hospital (NB. The School is not always aware when a student has been admitted to hospital).
- collection of the student by emergency services in what appears to be a potentially life-threatening condition.
- serious physical or mental illness.
- where in the opinion of the University it is not possible to reasonably keep a student safe.
- when a student is deemed to be 'missing' or uncontactable. This will be demonstrated by a prolonged lack of contact and a lack of response to direct requests for contact and efforts to contact or locate the student have been unsuccessful.

6. In addition to attempting to contact the emergency contact, the School may pass these contact details to the emergency services or other healthcare professionals.

7. In the event of a suspected or confirmed death of a student, the University will pass the emergency contact details to the emergency services to support them in their role of contacting next of kin. It is not the role of the School to first inform next of kin of a death.

Deciding to contact the emergency contact

8. If any member of staff considers that the student's emergency contact needs to be contacted they should in the first instance discuss the case with the Institute Director or Head of Registry Services. A decision will then be made on the case presented. The decision can be escalated to the School's Director of Operations as required. The Director of Operations should be contacted during any out of hour's emergencies.

9. Contact with the next of kin will be limited to the Head of Registry or the Director of Operations. This is in order to protect the student from breaches of confidentiality.

10. Once contact has been made a record of the action taken and the outcome should be kept on the student's central file retained in registry. No detail will be kept where it can be accessed more widely.
